Charity Golf Day set to tee off in October

Surrey Care Trust's Charity Golf Day returns for 2009 to once again raise money to bring life-changing opportunities to people who have had few advantages in life.

The Surrey Care Trust provides a range of education programmes and training courses to help transform the life chances of both young people and adults. The Trust gives people a second chance to learn the skills and gain the confidence and qualifications they need to overcome the disadvantage of low educational achievement.

Based at Milford but working across Surrey, the charity also runs a Crisis Grants fund, giving immediate help to people throughout the county who are facing hardship.

Being held at Betchworth Park Golf Club Reigate, on Thursday 15th October from 8am, this year's 18-hole charity team event, plus two course lunch and charity auction, promises not only to challenge your golfing skills, but also offer a great day out for friends and colleagues alike. Entry for a team of four is £400 to include a light breakfast and two-course lunch.

This year's event is being sponsored by actuaries and pension consultants Pope Anderson LLP.

The firm is based in London and Sheffield but senior partners Ian Pope and Paul Anderson both live in Surrey: "We welcome the opportunity to support a local and undervalued cause alongside our ongoing corporate support for national charities," said Ian.

"We entertained friends and clients at last year's Surrey Care Trust golf day and all thoroughly enjoyed an informal and relaxed day. Those who attended were keen to be re-invited this year and we welcomed the opportunity to become the key sponsor."

Last year's competition was won by Cobham solicitors Mundays with a total score of 94. This year however could be a different story and the Surrey Care Trust would love everyone to join us either by entering a team of four, donating prizes or even by sponsoring one of the eighteen holes from as little as £100.

What better way to support the Surrey Care Trust than playing one of your favourite sports on the beautiful Betchworth Park course? You could even use the occasion to entertain your clients. Sign up today!
